“ Haven't seen Claude in years. Always loved his stories. He was my second cousin. He was friends with my brothers Ray and Donald Kiser and spent a lot of time with them in their younger days. Ray often told the story of being out walking late one night and seeing Claude coming up the road. He hid behind a building ready to jump out and scare him. Claude was happily singing loudly, casually strolling along. Just as Ray started to jump out, he noticed Claude was carrying a brick in each hand. Needless to say, he didn't jump out on him. We saw a lot of him in our younger years. Often wondered where he was. Sounds like he had a good life. Love and prayers to the family.

“ Sorry for the passing of my 1st cousin! Have lots of memories of Claude here in Olive Hill. My brother Ralph & Claude were good buddies in their young days! One I remember & can still hear Claude tell about it ..Ralph had an old car, mom sent him to the store one morning to get a loaf of bread, well on the way he ran into Claude, in turn they ran into a bottle of moonshine..got plastered, woke up next morning with front wheels up a guy wire on electric pole other two on the ground! First thing Claude says, " Ralph we better get that loaf of bread home to Aunt Thelma or she's Gonna kill us"! This truly happened!! RIP Claude & Ralph! Ralph passed in 1964.
