“ If anyone wonders how you can become friend's with someone without ever meeting them, while living over four hours away, the answer is simple. You called UPS TOLOH dispatch and have Josh answer the phone. Always eager to help or listen if you were having a bad day. I enjoyed our many conversations over the last several years, which somehow always ended up on sports. I will miss our talks and tips on fantasy sports, but mostly I will just miss the voice of my friend. To the family, you have my sincerest condolences and my thoughts and prayers will be with you. “ I have been Josh's manager since 2007, previously to that Josh and my careers crossed many times. Josh had one of the brightest young minds at UPS, the sky was the limit for Josh. God must have had a real big problem to solve in Heaven because I've seen Josh at work, he could figure out anything, he was amazing. I looked forward to seeing Josh every day, Josh would bring in his lunch, sit down in the desk across from mine and we would have our talks about work and life. I loved seeing Josh after a good Ohio State Victory or when the Detroit Tigers were on a roll. We often would text each other to make sure we didn't miss a great play or performance on tv. (aka Verlanders No hitter). At work I would have to ask Josh if he was recording a game at home, he hated to know the score of a game if he was recording, it would ruin it for him. I would tease him like I was going to tell him a score, and we both would have a laugh. Oh man, his infectious laugh..... and his boyish smile.....I would like to get a bowling outing organized in Josh's memory (if that would be ok) and make it an annual event. Money raised can be donated in his name. I am struggling through this email and had to pause many times to get this completed, but a MoM and Dad should know how special Josh was to us at UPS and everyone he touched. I offer my condolences, God bless you two and the entire D'Angelo family. God bless Josh.##imported-begin##David Sabin##imported-end##

“ I got to know Josh in my freshman year of college at BGSU, during which time he became a dear friend and we shared many great times with the Napoleon crew at Offenhauer Towers. We also shared many classes together in BG's business school, and we graduated on the same date. Although we lost touch after graduation, I have always thought of Josh as bright guy who brought a lot of cheer with him wherever he went. It is very sad to hear of his passing, and my deepest condolences go out to his family and other friends.##imported-begin##Scott Cottrell##imported-end##
