“ From the frozen tundra of Korea to fields and forests of war-torn Europe to the jungles of Southeast Asia, from the deserts of Kuwait and Iraq to the mountains of Afghanistan, brave patriots have protected our nation’s ideals, rescued millions from tyranny, and helped spread freedom around the globe. America’s veterans answered the call when asked to protect our nation from some of the most brutal oppression the world has ever known.

Military service demands a special kind of sacrifice. The places where you are sent to live and serve bring risk every day. From the time you put on that uniform for the first time, the interests of the nation move to the forefront and define your life. Those duties are shared by family members who make many sacrifices of their own, sometimes bearing the burden of losing a loved one.

Service brings rewards as well. There is the pride in developing one’s own character, serving a cause far greater than self-interest. Every person who wears America’s uniform is part of a long, unbroken line of achievement and honor. No single military power in history has done greater good, shown greater courage, liberated more people or upheld higher standards of decency and valor than the Armed Forces of the United States of America.

That is a legacy to be proud of and those who contributed to it must never be taken for granted. To honor our veterans, we must keep the promises we have made to them. We must care for those who have been injured in the service of our country. We must honor and remember those who have died. And we must remember those whose fate is still undetermined. We fly the Prisoner of War flag on Veterans Day for a reason, to show that this nation will not relent until we have accounted for every one of our missing Americans. Thank you for your service. Thank you for all that you have sacrificed for this great nation. Thank you for being the backbone of America.

“ I was stationed at Scott AFB, IL from Sept 1954 to June 1955 going to a school to learn how to repair airplane radios. This was temporary assignment. Eldon was also stationed there on a more permanent duty assignment. His job was to fix electrical problems on F-86D jet fighters that were part of the Air Defense Command. Harold Dean Roesti who was also from the Ridgeville community was also temporarily stationed there going to a different school.. Somehow we three found each other. Eldon had a car and so he would sometimes take us to church or other places. He was a very kind and considerate person and I am thankful for the privilege of knowing him I am very confident his soul is "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and is happily renewing associations with other souls from earlier years. May God bless all of you.....david toles
