“ Jim was a great man! When my grandfather pasted he took me under his wing when I was 9 years old. Meant the world too me. He taught me what was to know about farming and how to make the mice stay out of the beans in the barn. He was the first person to teach me how to drive a tractor. I'll always remember our talks wile burning the seed bags at the end of the season. you where a wonderful man, best friend, and a part time grandpa. May you be up with God in a better home, where there are no bad seasons for the crops!
