“ Stepped out of the kitchen at the Oct. steak supper to say hi always thought we would get to visit again. Given half an hour we could solve most of the countries problems do bad they didn't get implemented. Always knew when Kevin flew over to say hi as he lined right over our place. We always ended talking about Kevin then he would up date me on what every one else was doing. He will be missed. Dennis Johnson

“ Condolences from our family to Marv's. We have been neighbors to the south for 34 years. In the past, most every time I called or stopped in it was because I had a question or wanted to borrow something. Marv and family would always help me if they could. On hearing the news, my son recalled the Story of Marv finding his lost kite. It was returned with a homemade wooden spool for the string. Most of what I know about our place I learned from Marv as he helped Elmer Lanzer with many projects over the years. I visited Marv in his shop in July as he was working on a garden tractor. On that visit I repeated many of the things Marv had taught me about "the Lanzer Place". Marv didn't remember all the stories, but I assured him that I did. Eric Shank
