“ Mike has done many, many projects for me over the years, one of the most recent was to add some needed electric outlets for some of my machines. This necessitated bringing a pole down from the ceiling to safely contain the wires required to bring my outlets to life! Now, every time I look at that pole (which is often), I find myself calling it "Mike's Pole" and smiling for the memories of the many jobs he did for me while keeping my cost low. Great electrician, greater man. I will miss him.
