

Paul John Celani II

March 28, 1979 - February 23, 2020

Paul John Celani II, 40 passed away unexpectedly on February 23, 2020. He was born at The US Naval Hospital in Portsmouth, VA. He was the son of Paul and the late Angela (Piercefield) Celani. PJ was welcomed by a sister, Salena. They spent the first 2 ½ years in Norfolk, before moving back to Napoleon.

The time came that PJ was welcomed into a blended family. His mom Deb, sister Tara and later a brother Christopher, residing in Wauseon.

PJ loved working on anything, being known as a MacGyver. He was always willing to help someone when they need it.

PJ was a 1997 graduate of Wauseon High School and then moved to Atlanta to learn the gutter business. He worked for several contractors. He finally began working for himself before starting PJC construction LLC. He learned all aspects of the construction trade. He traveled and worked in several states, but he especially loved the warm states with beaches. Whenever possible he was on the river, boating or knee boarding.

The love of PJ's life was his son Jaycob Paul. Spending time together, they went to museums, watched movies, and went on camping trips

PJ is also survived by his father Paul (Deb); siblings, Tara (Brad) Dumas,

Salena (Josh) Schnitkey, Chris (Holly) Celani; grandparents, Chick and Norma Piercefield, and aunts, uncles, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 6:30 PM on Saturday, February 29th at Haven Heights Baptist Church, Wauseon where friends may call from 3 pm till the time of service.

Memorial contributions are suggested to Rodenberger-Gray Funeral Home to help with funeral expenses.

“ So sorry about PJ. I remember him from when he was around 4 through his Jr. Year of high school when we left the area. Losing a child is a double hurt because you expect to out live your children. Will be praying for you especially this Saturday night.
