

Scott Lee Steward Sr.

April 20, 1959 - February 14, 2025

Scott Lee Steward, Sr., 65, of Napoleon, Ohio passed away on February 14, 2025. He was born in Huntington, Indiana on April 20, 1959 to the late Mauri and Diane (Dibble) Steward. On May 12, 1981, he married Margaret "Margie" Barlow in New Castle, Delaware.

Scott spent his career in the US Air Force as a Crew Chief on the C-130, "Silver Bullet," and after retirement he worked for Dana in the prototype division. He enjoyed fishing, camping, and being outdoors. He liked listening to country music, and cooking dinner for his family every Sunday. Scott loved having his family close, especially his grandchildren. His family is his greatest treasure. Scott was affectionally called the "Amazon King" since all the drivers got to know him personally on their many stops.

He is survived by his wife of almost 44 years, Margie; sons, Scott Jr (Sarah) Steward, and David (Miranda) Steward; grandchildren, Scott III, Anthony, Abigail, Bryce, Jessyn and Owen; and siblings, John (Dena) Steward, Tammy Hendryx, Cindy (Kent) Walcutt, Cheri Steward, Kimberly Steward, Jodi Baltrush, and Donald Baltrush. In addition to his parents, Scott was preceded in death by his sister, Mary Taylor.

“ Scott was my best buddy growing up. When the girls got big enough to run off without me to time themselves running up and down hills, I remember crying when they said I was too little so he said “here come operate this stopwatch with me”. He was always a helper and a fixer any way he knew how; or he’d figure it out if he didn’t know how. Always smiling and asking about my family when he saw me instead of focusing on himself! He was a truly selfless individual and to know him was to love him!

He will forever be missed and I picture him enjoying heaven until we meet up again! He will have to give me the tour.
